Newspaper Says Castro Quitting

Cuban Premier Makes No Comment

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro is resigning as premier today, the newspaper of his 26th of July Movement announced.

His action appeared based on a desire to seek an expression of confidence from his government and the Cuban people in the face of criticism from both inside and outside Cuba.

The movement's newspaper, Revolution, said: "This newspaper has learned that the Prime Minister has in the last few hours taken the decision to resign his post that he accepted because of national necessity some months ago."

"It is known also that without doubt that public opinion will be greatly moved by this action which Fidel Castro will explain in a news conference later today..."

Sources close to Castro said the revolutionary leader's action appeared to be a political maneuver aimed at provoking renewed support.

The Prime Minister had not appeared publicly for nearly two days. Associates said he had been at his country home outside Havana studying the situation.

There was no indication in Havana whether Castro would remain in the country.

Ex-Theater Manager Gets Term in Pen

LISBON — Robert Phillips, 40, of St. Louis, Mo., former manager of Lisbon Manos Theater, was sentenced Thursday to 1 to 10 years in the Ohio penitentiary by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp on a charge of embezzlement of $1,332 from the theatre between September 1951 and January, 1953.

Phillips was indicted by the April 1953 grand jury and pleaded guilty, asking for probation. On Nov. 12, 1953, his hearing for probation was set but he failed to appear and on March 12, 1954, application for probation was denied by the court and the Summit Delinquency and Surety Co. of Youngstown was ordered to forfeit $500 of the $1,000 bond they had posted for Phillips.

The bonding firm finally located Phillips last week in St. Louis. He waived extradition and was returned to Columbiana County last Saturday.

Phillips told Judge Sharp that he had paid back all the money and that he bought his own plane ticket back to Ohio from St. Louis.

Sen. Humphrey Barred From TV Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—A partial blackout from one of his favorite media — television — brought a demand from Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) today for speedy congressional revision of the radio-TV equal time rule.

Because his friends put him into the race for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination this week, Humphrey said his scheduled appearance on CBS' Face the Nation next Sunday had been canceled.

Humphrey said CBS attorneys had ruled he was officially a candidate and that the network would have to give other aspirants equal time on news programs on which he appeared.

On the other hand he was invited and promptly accepted an invitation to appear today on NBC's Today show.

In New York, Sig Mickelson CBS vice president in charge of news, confirmed that the network's attorneys had advised that the invitation to Humphrey be withdrawn.

Humphrey contended that he is no more an official candidate than Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and other hopefuls, despite the fanfare of an announcement Tuesday by Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.) they were putting him up for the nomination.

Humphrey said he had consulted Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and had been promised that a bill revising the equal time provision will be brought up next week for Senate action.

The measure, approved Wednesday by the Senate Commerce Committee, would exempt from the equal time ruling of the Federal Communications Commission appearances of candidates on newscasts, interviews, documentaries and panel discussions.

Losses Reach $100 Million In Steel Strike

Negotiation Front Remains Static; No End In Sight

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Steel production loss mounted toward 100 million dollars today in the third day of the nationwide steel strike. No end to the crippling shutdown is in sight.

Many more millions in wages have been lost by 500,000 striking United Steelworkers, quietly manning picket lines at darkened mills.

Losses on both sides will grow steadily. The negotiations front is static.

There's little optimism on the part of strikers, the steel industry or the government that the contract stalemate can be resolved quickly. Neither the industry nor the union has given any sign of retreating from its stand.

Federal mediation efforts in the dispute will be renewed in New York Monday.

David J. McDonald, president of the Steelworkers, told pickets at the Bethlehem Steel Corp. plant in Bethlehem, Pa.: "We meet with the government on Monday, but I don't know whether it will do any good. Up to this point, we have been meeting nothing but messenger boys."

The strike at Tuesday midnight shut off nearly 90 per cent of the country's steelmaking capacity, representing about 300,000 tons of ingot steel daily.

Weekly production loss to the industry is estimated at 300 million dollars. The loss to strikers in wages is calculated at 70 million dollars a week.

In addition, allied industries such as coal and transportation have felt the strike keenly. About 25,000 workers have been idled due to business cutbacks.

Negotiations floundered on the union's demand for increased wages and improved fringe benefits, the industry's steadfast refusal to make any concessions that would raise labor costs.

Steelworkers had been averaging $3.10 an hour before the strike.

Steel Strike At A Glance

By The Associated Press
IDLE — Half-million striking United Steelworkers, plus an estimated 25,000 in allied industries, chiefly coal, rail and Great Lakes iron ore shipping.

NEGOTIATIONS—No joint bargaining sessions scheduled. Federal mediation officials plan separate talks with both sides in New York Monday.

PICKET FRONT — Quiet and orderly. Union President David J. McDonald toured Bethlehem, Pa., steel center Thursday. Other union officials were in Chicago and Pittsburgh areas.

OUTSIDE DEVELOPMENTS — Sen. Stuart Symington and Massachusetts Gov. Foster Furcolo proposed government fact-finding.

PRODUCTION AND WAGE LOSSES — Steel production loss mounted toward 100-million-dollar mark in third day of shutdown. Some 300,000 tons of ingot steel being lost daily. Steelworker wages estimated at 70 million dollars a week.

ISSUES—Union wants increased wages and fringe benefits. Industry resists any rise in labor costs.

No charges were filed against the driver, Eugene Exline, 25, of Elkton, highway patrolmen said today.

In another accident, Albert Crook, 86, of Rt. 2, Leetonia was cited by state patrolmen for failure to yield the right of way after he drove in front of an auto operated by Thomas Messenger, 16, of Rd. 1, New Waterford.

The mishap occurred at 12:05 p.m. on Rt. 164 at the junction of Rt. 388, about four miles south of Columbiana.

Workmen's, School Bills Create Snarl

Disalle Labor Racket's Measure Is Defeated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Legislature this week got the dis-103rd General Assembly has tied heartening news Thursday, before itself in a legislative knot which the weekend recess, that no firm may take as much as two weeks date for adjournment is in sight.

The legislative snarl involves two House-approved bills: One would increase workmen's compensation benefits; the other provides for distribution of about 52 million dollars in extra school subsidy money.

The Senate only Thursday received the controversial bill to increase workmen's compensation benefits. The school subsidy bill has been stalled on the Senate floor for two days while Senate majority leader Frank W. King (D-Lucas) continues his search for enough support to pass the Senate version of the bill.

Thursday, like every day of the last month in this high-pressure, Democratic-dominated Legislature, produced its fireworks in a double defeat for Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Rejected 54-58

The labor reform bill—one of DiSalle's pets—was defeated in the House 54-58. And the House voted 112-6 to override the governor's veto of a fairtrade bill to allow manufacturers to set minimum prices on trademarked items. But fair-trade foes are working hard to line up enough Senate votes to uphold the veto.

The House bill aimed at individual racketeers in the labor movement, after a four-month stay in House committee, finally came to the floor only to be ripped apart and then defeated by labor-minded members.

But, DiSalle later told newsmen: "The House's actions were tentative, and subject to change before the Senate."

Bandit Eludes Niles Searchers

Authorities Comb Ohio, Pennsylvania

NILES, Ohio (AP)—Law enforcement officers hunted in a wide area of Ohio and western Pennsylvania today for some clue leading to the robber and a possible companion who took $40,000 from a woman bank teller in a daring daylight holdup.

The money—in a canvas pouch—was taken Thursday from Miss Judy Whitney, 21, the teller, and Patrolman Anthony Marsico, 33, who was escorting her. Both were handcuffed in the police cruiser, used to make a getaway from the Niles Bank Co. office.

Miss Whitney, a teller for the McKinley Federal Savings & Loan Co., along with Marsico had just picked up the cash and gotten into the cruiser when a man, neatly dressed, jumped into the right rear door and pointed a gun at the pair.

He ordered Miss Whitney to lie down on the front seat and made the policeman drive about two miles to Stevens Park. Marsico told FBI agents the holdup man threatened to shoot unless Marsico obeyed orders, he said.

During the ride, the robber turned up the rear view mirror so Marsico could not watch any car.

West Foresees Agreement On Berlin Problem

Sessions Go On Under Facade of Social Gatherings

GENEVA (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers opened a round of secret "tea party" negotiation today on terms of a truce in the Berlin crisis. The West is seeking an ironclad pledge of Soviet respect for the Western position in Berlin.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko met with French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville for lunch at the latter's villa.

Officially it was a social gathering. In fact it was the opening of a new round of secret diplomacy.

Thursday's meeting produced some evidence that the West may find it possible in the end to get an agreement to solve the Soviet threat to Berlin for several years.

The Western ministers believe that progress toward agreement can be achieved only in secret sessions, away from the propaganda spotlight.

On Monday Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said he would not agree to secret meetings unless the delegations from East and West Germany were present.

Gromyko obviously was making a grandstand bid for recognition of the Communist East German regime. When the three Western ministers rejected his maneuver, he agreed to resumption of the secret talks behind the social facade.

Gromyko indicated in a speech to the conference that he may be willing to meet some Western criticisms by amending his proposal for an 18-month Berlin truce.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd found that on several points the Soviet Union and the Western powers seemed to be approaching agreement.

Chimpanzees May Be Next Space Animals

ALAMOGORDO, N. M., (AP)—One or more chimpanzees will be put in orbit around the earth this fall as the next step in the United States space program, says the Alamogordo News.

Quoting unnamed missile experts, the News outlined a detailed space program Thursday in a convoluted story by reporter Hal Wills.

After orbiting the chimpanzees, the next step will be the firing of the first moon rocket, the Saturn, in 1962 or 1963, the newspaper said.

In 1965 or 1966, the News said the U.S. will fire the Nova if the Saturn rocket project is successful. The News described the Nova as a seven-stage space ship designed to land on the moon and return to Earth.

A successful space flight of the X15 rocket plane will be a side-line to the actual program, significant only because it will be the first time man will have left the Earth's atmosphere under rocket power, the News said, adding:

"... The first true step toward placing man on another planet will be the huge and dramatic Vega rocket, America's maiden man-carrying space vehicle."

It described the Vega as a three-stage vehicle, with the Atlas rocket as its first stage.

An intermediate phase of the program will be the Centaur, a rocket now in the planning stage and scheduled to be flown in 1962.

"Centaur... will be able to carry 2,500 pounds of equipment or a crew of men to a point 22,000 miles from Earth," the News said.

Walkout Averted at Detroit Steel Corp.

Portsmouth Is Oasis In Steel Strike

By L. W. BURNS
Portsmouth Times Writer
PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Portsmouth, long plagued by bad publicity surrounding a prolonged telephone strike in 1956, today loomed as at least one oasis in Ohio's steel strike-ridden desert.

And the Ohio River city, which is the home of Detroit Steel Corp., Portsmouth division, has embarked upon a new era of labor-management relations.

Concrete evidence of this is the fact that Local 2116, United Steelworkers of America, and the management of Detroit Steel were able to come to a last-minute agreement on a contract extension, averting a walkout and unemployment for approximately 3,500 DSC workers.

With the extension came a new lease on life for the city, which depends heavily on the steel plant's $425,000 weekly payroll.

But hailed as even more important by civic leaders was the spirit of harmony which prevailed at contract negotiations and which helped to forestall a steel walkout.

Portsmouth has been laboring under a bad reputation hung on it when it was embroiled in a long and bitter strike between the Communications Workers of America and General Telephone Co., which at times saw the city cut off from outside communications because vandals cut vital telephone cables.

The situation was so unique in labor history that Portsmouth was the center of curiosity for newspapers and magazines from coast to coast. They sent in experts to tell the nation how a city managed to survive without phone service.

This situation resulted not many months after the city had gained some favorable notice. Secretary of Labor Mitchell visited Portsmouth in connection with a "labor-management harmony celebration" pegged to a pledge by union and steel leaders was the spirit of harmony which prevailed at contract negotiations and which helped to forestall a steel walkout.

the then booming Portsmouth area atomic energy plant in nearby Pike County.

But experienced observers believe the wheel has turned full circle and that Portsmouth is entering an enlightened period of labor management cooperation.

J. C. Carroll, district representative of the U.S.W., said that one of his union's prime objectives during local negotiations was to avert a strike.

"We pointed out," Carroll said, "that both sides must maintain a position from which both could grasp the first opportunity to avert a shutdown. The welfare of the community and the Steelworkers was uppermost in our minds."

Duncan Baxter, vice president in charge of industrial relations for the modern mill, praised the cooperation of the union.

"Management is elated by the action of the local which makes it possible for its members to work while the bargaining teams seek a new contract," he said.

And the man-on-the-street reaction to continued operation of the mill?

"This is the greatest thing that has happened here in a long time," is his unqualified rejoinder.

7,000 Visit Navy Ships In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—An estimated 7,000 persons visited the cruiser U.S.S. Macon in Cleveland harbor Thursday. Two other navy ships, the U.S.S. Cambria, an attack transport, and the U.S.S. Terribone Parish, an LST, each reported about 3,500 visitors.

The Macon is the biggest warship ever to enter the Great Lakes. The three are the vanguard of 14 vessels visiting here in the Navy's salute to the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Saturday 1,000 combat-ready Marines will swarm ashore at Edgewater Beach Park in a mock amphibious assault. During the assault, Marine attack bombers from Youngstown airport will drop a mock atomic bomb and strafe the beach.

Bill Called Hoffa's Greatest Victory

Bitter Battle Expected On Labor-Management Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bitter, unpredictable battle on the floor of the House was all but assured today over adoption of a labor-management controls bill.

The House Labor Committee, at a late night session, virtually completed action on a bill denounced by a Republican spokesman as Teamsters President James R. Hoffa's greatest victory. Faction-split Democrats disagreed on various provisions and on the bill's over-all effectiveness.

In many respects, the bill met most basic objections of organized labor and represented a substantial revision of the Senate-passed version.

Rep. Carroll D. Kearns of Pennsylvania, senior committee Republican, told reporters "Jimmy Hoffa has won his greatest victory."

Still ahead are the drafting of some of the measure's provisions and of a report to accompany it. The committee Wednesday removed from the Senate-passed labor "bill of rights" provisions for criminal sanctions against browbeating members for exercising their rights. It substituted civil court injunctions as a remedy against reprisals after offended members had exhausted their union-allowed remedies.

Thursday the committee approved a revised version of the Senate's ban on organizational or "blackmail" picketing, and a ban on secondary boycotts subject to the qualifying provision that union members cannot be fired for crossing picket lines of a primary employer.

It approved a prehire amendment to the Taft-Hartley labor relations law, desired both by management and labor, which would permit building contractors to enter into agreements with the building trades unions without first going through a representation election.

In a major action, the committee also voted to enlarge the National Labor Relations Board from five to seven members and revise some of its practices.

It moved to eliminate the "no man's land" area of labor disputes—those cases in which neither the board nor state agencies take jurisdiction—with an assertion that the board must assume jurisdiction over all labor dispute cases.

Plumbers Back on Job After 2 Week Strike

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—About 500 plumbers, on strike in Columbiana, Trumbull and Mahoning Counties for two weeks, were set to return to work today after union leaders accepted a one-year contract providing a three-cent hourly wage increase and 10 cents hourly in a package pension plan.

The agreement was signed Thursday by representatives of the Youngstown Assn. of Plumbing and Heating Contractors and Local 87 of the Plumbers and Steamfitters Union.

Guarding Your Health

Appendicitis Isn't Killer--If Caught Quickly

This is frankly a warning column and deals with appendicitis. This is an inflammation of a small pocketlike piece of tissue attached to the intestines. The appendix is of no use to us in digestion, or for any other purpose, but can be a real troublemaker.

Acute inflammation of the appendix -- appendicitis -- is rather common and is tricky enough to cause a lot of trouble even today.

Rich Or Poor?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you rich or poor?

Sometimes it's hard to tell, world values being what they are. But here are a few tests to help you find your status gratis:

You're poor if you have to worry about keeping up with the Joneses.

You're rich if Jones asks, "Mind if I borrow your credit card?"

You're rich if you still have one good friend you knew when young.

You're poor if a panhandler takes one look at your face—and decides not to hit you up.

You're rich if you can say "Money isn't everything" — and name something it isn't.

You're poor if you can't.

You're rich if you're the healthiest guy in the poorhouse.

You're poor if they have to help you up the steps at the Country Club.

You're rich if they welcome you at a snob restaurant even though you're wearing tennis shoes.

You're rich if you can't even remember the names of all your former wives.

You're poor if you can't forget their names.

You're poor if you can't afford to own a car made before 1910.

You're rich if you walk to work — just because you like to.

You're rich if you can choose the particular ocean you prefer to swim in.

You're poor if you have to paint your own yacht.

You're rich — and probably over 70 — if your second cousins still send you happy birthday cards.

You're poor if they cross the street to keep from meeting you.

You're poor if the only sunsets you see are on television.

You're rich if the singing of birds in the morning doesn't annoy you.

You're rich if you can't recall all the servants you've had in the last five years.

You're poor if you can recall only one—the wife.

You're rich if, when someone says "Let's go to the beach," you reach for a phone to charter a plane to Biarritz.

You're poor if the whole gang winds up at Coney Island.

You're rich if you wear that 15-year-old elbow-patched sports jacket because they don't make 'em like that anymore.

You're poor if you still wear it because you can't afford a new one like it anymore.

North Carolina Man Gets Life for Rape

RAEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Ralph Lee Betts, 36, white father of four children, was sentenced to life imprisonment Thursday for the rape of an 11-year-old Negro girl.

A Superior Court jury of 12 white men spared him the maximum penalty of death by recommending mercy. The jury was out 2½ hours.

Mary Lois McDougal testified Betts came to her rural home and ordered her to enter his car. She said the attack occurred in a wooded area after he threatened her with a pistol.

Ultimate Reality of Bargaining

The key to the 1959 steel strike is President Eisenhower's official judgment that no national emergency exists. The White House will not interfere with the industry's collective bargaining.

This is a far cry from the Roosevelt-Truman era when the White House stepped into every major strike on the claim of national emergency. Except for the historic exception when John L. Lewis closed down coal mines, the influence of the White House always was on the side of the unions.

That was not collective bargaining.

It was a semi-legal form of coercion practiced under the shadowy sanctions of laws whose net effect had been to put management at the mercy of the combined forces of unionism and government.

The ultimate reality of collective bargaining is what the country is seeing now. The White House has done everything it could do to keep negotiations going. Its services as a mediator are available. It has published its viewpoint that the general welfare would be harmed by further wage-cost-price inflation.

But it is not the third party in the negotiations.

THE STEELWORKERS and the 12 major companies closed by the strike are on their own. They are hammering out the terms of a new contract on the anvil of adversity—their own and that of the people whose services they use.

The issue, as it has been boiled down after long negotiations, is whether the union will let the companies get rid of featherbedding and other uneconomic practices that put it at a competitive disadvantage with foreign producers by making its costs unnecessarily high.

The companies contend the only way they can pay higher wage rates without raising the price of steel and adding to inflation is to produce more efficiently—the classic way that gave Americans the world's highest standard of living.

This is a powerful point of view. It reflects the best thought of producers in every line of enterprise. The only way enterprise can pay higher wages without using printing-press money is to pay higher wages in real money; i.e., money that is gaining buying power instead of losing buying power.

THE UNION will fight the claim that its local agreements, not to be confused with its industrywide agreements, have foisted inefficiency on the steel industry. Union members feel they must do this to defend their union. They are not defending the practices in dispute but the organization that caused them to come into being.

This is a hairline distinction, but it may well be the turning point of hammer-and-tongs showdown in the steel industry in 1959. Steel contracts proverbially became the pattern for other contracts. In previous years, the pattern was virtually dictated by the Steelworkers and their political allies. This year there is no alliance, and there is going to be no dictating.

This is the way collective bargaining should be. It may be a shock to sensitive spirits who thought it was some other way more to their liking. It already has been shocking to some sleepwalkers who wanted to think the whole thing was a dream and everybody would wake up before the strike began.

The issue has been joined.

Can unions force an endless spiral of wage-cost-price inflation at the cost of savings and ability to compete, or can employers regain control of production and thereby pay higher real wages out of greater real wealth?

A Little Unfairness Now and Then

Gov. DiSalle's veto message on proposed legislation to restore fair trade in Ohio in a way to conform with a finding against its constitutionality by the Ohio Supreme Court, might end up in a textbook.

"A little unfairness now and then is relished by the best of consumers under the good, old free-enterprise system," declares the governor, in effect.

What he actually said is: "I do not feel that the state may properly interfere with the operation of a free economy in a free enterprise system by using its police powers to attempt to halt a practice which, although unfair, is not necessarily contrary to law in that it infringes upon the health, safety or welfare of the general public."

And what the governor must have had in mind was even more to the point.

Competition under a free-enterprise system is not always fair. The competitors are in a battle for survival, and they behave accordingly. But sometimes when competitors are behaving at their worst consumers have some of their finest hours. To tell consumers they should keep retailers from taking unfair advantage of each other lest the consumers get too much for their money is absurd.

Years ago when the idea of fair trade was new, no one ever mentioned consumers. But as time passed, consumers began to mention themselves whenever the question was reopened. The doctrine that fair trade and free enterprise are automatically compatible, consumers concluded, was not sound. There were instances in which fair trade laws amounted to suspension of free enterprise, at the expense of consumers.

This is what Gov. DiSalle has put into words so lucidly that the words could well be included in a textbook. Consumers have interests that may or may not be served by price controls, either minimum or maximum, but cannot be served by public laws, barring emergencies.

Even from the retailer's point of view, fair trade laws have never been completely effectual because some resourceful merchants have always found ways to circumvent them.

A Cheery Thought

Although everyone hopes for an early settlement of the steel strike, the nationwide walkout of the United Steelworkers has little indirect impact on Salem.

Unless the strike is prolonged, local plants using steel for fabricating and other purposes have sufficient stockpiles to permit uninterrupted operations. It is a bright thought, especially after industrial payrolls here in June were the highest, collectively, for any month this year. Workers in Salem plants shared $8,787,033 in pay, January through June, sufficient to make everyone happy—the employers, the workers themselves and local businesses. It's a cheery note in view of the steel strike which is affecting the larger steel-producing centers.

Butler Thinks Twice

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, has had a severe case of double-think. Five years ago, he says, he did not consider segregation a political issue. Now, he says, he does.

This may seem incredible to those Democrats in Congress already mad at him for criticizing them. The question of civil rights, which includes segregation, has been a political issue many years. It gives them a chance to ask: "Mr. Butler, you've been in politics 32 years but where have you been?"

Life has not been exactly jolly for the peppery, 54-year-old Indiana lawyer since he became his party's chief of staff in 1954. He has pot-shotted at the Republicans ever since. Last week he fired on his own troops.

He said the Democrats in Congress are not doing enough and are playing too much ball with President Eisenhower. They responded in various ways, including the suggestion he shut up or get out.

Over the weekend he cut loose with more of the same criticism of Democrats and also accused Eisenhower of saying too little on segregation.

Eisenhower has never said whether he thinks the Supreme Court's 1954 ban on public school segregation is good or bad. Last week he said he thinks segregation is immoral when it interferes with a citizen's political or economic opportunity.

This is another way of saying when it interferes with a Negro's right to vote or earn a living. But Eisenhower still left unsaid whether he thinks the principle of segregation itself is immoral.

At a news conference Butler said Eisenhower didn't go far enough. He said: "Segregation is immoral period."

He was then asked about a story in the Atlanta Constitution, which reported that Georgia's Democratic chairman, John Sammons

Bell, has a pledge from Butler, written on the back of an envelope, that he would not try to make segregation a national issue.

Butler tried to brush aside the story as "old political business." He said he signed the paper in 1954 when he was elected Democratic chairman; that segregation then was a legal matter "and I did not see any reason to make it a political issue."

He said that was the way he felt about the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation of May 1954. He was named chairman in December 1954. But he added: Through the "force of circumstances" integration has become a major social issue.

"Any problem that affects any segment of the population must become the concern of a political party," he said.

This is where Democrats angry at Butler could point out that by his reasoning — since the Negro segment of the population has been affected by the segregation problem for generation — it has been a political problem a long time.

They could point out—that it has actually been a very real and explosive political problem particularly in the Democratic party, although Butler didn't seem to think so until recently.

For example: The Southern Democrats' filibusters against civil rights legislation. Their opposition to President Truman's civil rights program which asked a ban on racial discrimination in voting and employment, the two fields in which Eisenhower says segregation is immoral.

The split in the Democratic party in 1948 when Southerners walked out of the convention because of the party's platform plank on civil rights which proclaimed the right of racial and religious minorities to live, work, vote and get full protection of the laws.

Butler could also be reminded of 1952 when he was an original supporter of Adlai Stevenson for president and how the party's platform that year also contained a civil rights plank.

Breakdown of Reason

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Public Opinion Can Settle Steel Strike

The nation is witnessing an example of how easy it is to slide into a war — to resort to force because there has been no effective exercise of the processes of reason.

A nationwide steel strike is a confession that differences between two large groups can be resolved only by economic force. The end result is a devastating blow to the national economy, involving the loss of hundreds of millions of dollars — to the workers, to the companies directly involved, to related industries such as railroads, to collateral industries, to defense production and to the government itself, which loses taxes when business operations are interrupted.

Yet in a free country, with all facilities of communication and negotiation available and without duress of any kind upon those who confer, the two parties nevertheless decide to fight it out on the economic battlefield. Reason fails because union leaders are not free agents — they are the victims of organized pressure, within their own ranks, for gain at any cost.

There was a time when the "public interest" — the party of the third party — received more attention than today. This usually meant governmental intervention of some kind.

THE METHOD has fallen into disrepute, because during past administrations it came to mean politically motivated policies that were not impartial. The side with the most political influence had its way.

The governmental intervention that the country wants — a disinterested study and recommendation for a solution — no longer seems to be obtainable, due to the tremendous power the labor unions have mobilized politically.

Certainly the issues are resolvable. Any disinterested tribunal could come up with a formula for settlement. The union leaders, who are themselves elected to office, cannot directly negotiate reasonable settlements — they are compelled, because of politics inside the unions, to insist on more and more wages, irrespective of productivity or any other factor.

As for the steel companies, they are up against competition from abroad, where wage rates are much lower than in this country. They are losing some of their markets. Tariffs are not popular these days, so there isn't much relief in sight from protectionist laws.

There is, of course, a basis for an agreement. It involves a revision of the complex working rules in existing contracts which today make it necessary for the employers to pay for work not done—this is called "featherbedding."

My thoughts these days turn often to Prince Philip, who is tagging along with his missus on a duty tour of the northern part of North America.

When Philip got into this interesting line of work, he knew he was going to get around. But he would have had to have been hopped up high to realize how much he was going to get around.

The poor guy is like the school kid who wrote on the bottom of a report he had been assigned to make on hippopotamuses: "This is a great deal more about hippopotamuses than I cared to know."

It is nothing new, however, for my thoughts to turn to Prince Philip. I began to brood about him when Princess Elizabeth Alexandra Mary, eldest daughter of King George VI and a lady who had been tapped for destiny, said yes to his proposal of marriage away back in the '40s before she became Elizabeth II, by the Grace of God, Queen of this realm and her other realms and territories, Head of the Commonwealth and Defender of the Faith.

I figured then that here was a young fellow wgetting into as nice a line of work as I could imagine and that if the same kind of chance had come my way I could have fielded it flawlessly. Even when the prince turned up the other day reading the Scripture lesson for a church service during the Canadian tour I did not change my mind.

This is the kind of work I was cut out for — consorting.

I could inspect troops, stand in the background with head erect, make little jokes to show my human side and tell my missus what word she was groping for and couldn't remember while dedicating stuff.

I could be a royal confidante without throwing my weight or betraying confidences. I could pursue a genteel, respectable hobby, like polo — even polo, I suppose, once I had learned to ride the silly horse.

I could peer into excavations and be sympathetic to veterans, stride along discreetly a few steps to the rear of my spouse, baby-sit with the kids and keep a straight face through all the pomp and circumstance that keep the British from forgetting their hard-working

IF THE STANDARDS of measurement were based only on efficiency, there could be savings that would mean increases in wages to those who give satisfactory performance.

But the union doctrines which have been preached consistently call for increased wages, irrespective of the economic consequences in price inflation.

So, what is the answer? It used to be to submit a dispute to some form of arbitration with both sides agreeing in advance to accept the verdict. Who today can select impartial arbitrators? What responsibility can such arbitrators have for the conduct of the businesses which may be asked to accept heavier financial burdens than they themselves feel are warranted?

President Eisenhower said at his press conference on Wednesday that he has done all he could to urge a settlement by the parties themselves.

He declared: "I believe that we have got thoroughly to test out and to use the method of free bargaining."

The President added that the moment that government tries to bring about pressure on collective bargaining, it no longer remains free bargaining. This is but another way of saying that the government itself cannot become involved in telling one party or the other in the dispute what it should accept or reject.

If the government cannot do this, should anybody else do it? Existing law calls for a "cooling off" period of 80 days and even a federal injunction to stop a strike temporarily but it provides no formula to settle a strike if the parties are adamant after the 80 days have expired.

PUBLIC OPINION alone can settle the steel strike. This means that the facts have to be brought out into the open, so judgment can be rendered by the American people. The power of labor-union monopolies is extensive.

While an individual may quit work if he pleases, there is no constitutional right of any organized group to inflict damage on the people as a whole.

Congress has been investigating the abuses in labor unions. The rackets that have been revealed are shocking. It is true that only a few unions have been exposed but the potential monopoly power permitted under present law is the basis for the rackets.

Labor unions, like the trusts of yesteryear, are a monopoly. Are they using their power reasonably, or are they abusing it?

When the people of America make up their minds that labor unions should be covered under the antitrust statutes that prohibit restraints of trade, there will be an end to the industrywide bargaining monopolies and collusive agreements which today can put the whole economic life of the country at the mercy of a few individuals.

Prince Philip

royalty is worth every shilling it costs them in its stabilizing effect on their politics.

To be sure, I am not as handsome as Prince Philip. But very few prince-consorts are, and if I grew a beard like Queen Victoria's Albert no one would notice how unroyal and unprepossessing I looked.

It's what upstairs that counts in these situations, and I have had no doubt — ever — that my views on being a prince consort would blend harmoniously with the set-up.

This is pointed out in complete respect, moreover, because I believe that behind every queen there needs to be a man — preferably a spouse, because I have no confidence in the kind of advisers who hang around palaces.

It is, in my opinion, a job well worth doing and something a man could be proud of. True, it is non-competitive. The hours are irregular. It is possible a fellow would not feel he was being challenged to get ahead or get out.

But the work is respectable. It is important. It is one of the service trades, which grow in popularity all the time. There are enough fringe benefits to keep off the cold winds of insecurity and adversity. And a fellow gets to see the world.

My thoughts turn often to Prince Philip. I hope he knows when he is well off.

following. This move caused investigating officers to speculate later that a confederate was following in another vehicle.

The robber took Marsico's gun and threw the ignition key in the bushes. Police handcuffs were used to link Marsico and Miss Whitney to the steering wheel of the cruiser and both had their eyes and mouths taped.

The robber warned the couple not to move for 15 minutes as he departed. But, Marsico told officers that when he heard another car start away behind him, he freed himself and Miss Whitney, who called for help from a nearby house.

By the time police arrived it was too late to set up any effective roadblock, especially since there was no description of the getaway car.

However, Thursday night police began a search for a car that possibly was used by the robber. It was a 1951 blue or light green two-door Ford sedan (with license plate number Y 875 C), stolen here Thursday. The plates were stolen earlier in Newton Falls, 15 miles west of here, according to police.

The school bill which virtually has held the Senate dead in its tracks for 48 hours contains a batch of Senate amendments to slice 8 1/2 million dollars for the spending level which the House-approved measure requires.

At least four of the Democratic senators at the moment are objecting. It is their contention the Senate clashes cut state aid to the less-wealthy districts to the benefit of richer districts.

But the hangover bitterness of the House fight over workmen's compensation and the prospect of a similar battle in the Senate continued to hold the center of the legislative stage

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Patently pitting the law against the crime syndicates is a 250-man staff directed by Harry Anslinger, head of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics. Mr. Anslinger was asked to bring right up to the minute the score in the battle against this goulash addiction and its panders. Here is his report — Victor Riesel.

By HARRY J. ANSLINGER

I have the pleasure to be guest columnist for my dear and trusted friend, Victor Riesel, who has long been a staunch supporter of the policies of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and a valiant fighter in the world struggle against drug addiction.

During the hearings before the Select Senate Committee on Improper Activities in the Labor and Management fields, we were all astonished at the large number of labor racketeers who had records of narcotic violations. Most of them were connected with Vito Genovese and the Mafia which met at Apalachin.

Genovese was recently convicted at New York City and sentenced to 15 years for violations of the narcotics laws. Compared to this man, Capone was a peanut vendor. We have also convicted some 300 of Genovese's brother "hoods," many of whom have been deported.

THE ACT OF CONGRESS of 1956 has brought about a drastic reduction in the number of addicts reported to the Bureau of Narcotics. This is particularly true of the State of Ohio, which imposes heavy penalties on narcotic peddlers. New York City and Los Angeles have the highest incidence of drug addiction in the United States, which is due to weak narcotic penalty laws in those states.

We hear much oratory and there are many legislative inquiries in those states but no action. The New York City and Los Angeles police forces have excellent narcotic squads, the prosecutors are extremely capable but the penalties are far below federal levels.

There have been many false statements in reference to the so-called British system. The British Home Office states that this term is an invention of certain Americans who wish to present their point of view.

They completely disregard that there is a British system in Hong Kong, where there were 17,000 arrests last year for heroin violation — which is as many arrests in one city in the United Kingdom as we have in the entire United States.

Also, Canada, which is a British Dominion, has an addiction problem and violations in the same proportion as our population as we have in the United States.

WHEN DR. FIDEL Castro was in Washington recently, his deputy general of immigration, D. Acosta, was furnished with a complete list of narcotic suspects in Havana, and we have already seen, by positive action, that the Cuban government BLOWING OUR TOP—The U.S. has just racked up its biggest, peacetime budget deficit in history. Preliminary figures indicate that the government will wind up fiscal 1959, ended June 30, some 12.5 to 13 billion dollars in the red. This pushes the total national debt over the 284-billion-dollar mark. President Eisenhower has asked, and been granted by Congress, a temporary debt ceiling of 295 billion dollars. Next year this will revert to a permanent limit of 285 billion. Chart above traces the rapid climb of U.S. public debt since before World War II.

ment will not tolerate these hoodlums who use Havana as a base for smuggling heroin and cocaine into the United States.

Bolivia is the source of most of the narcotics entering Cuba and we understand that Dr. Acosta will make appropriate representations to the Bolivian government to bring about a cessation of this traffic.

Heroin continues to be the drug preferred by some 60,000 addicts in the United States, 12 per cent of whom are under the age of 21. This heroin comes principally from the Near East — Syria, Turkey and Lebanon, in that order. Those governments are cooperating with us in an effort to suppress the traffic.

Communist China continues to be the major source of supply for heroin on the West Coast. In January, 1959, an investigation was concluded which involved the smuggling into California and Oregon of 270 pounds of heroin, which amounted to millions of dollars in the illicit traffic.

Documents seized proved that this heroin originated in the Province of Szechwan, Communist China.

WE CAN ESTABLISH definitely, despite the claim of Communist China that they have cleaned up the narcotic traffic, that the Chinese mainland is an inexhaustible source of narcotics. The government of Burma reports some 300 seizures of narcotics from Red China, which indicates that some 7,000 smuggling sorties had taken place in that area alone from the Chinese mainland.

Recently, a New York Grand Jury returned an indictment against 27 gangsters who attended the Apalachin meeting of the Mafia. The indictment was the result of a long, tedious and patient investigation by Milton R. Wessel, special assistant to the attorney general, who has shown unusually keen insight of law enforcement, long needed on the national scene.

He advocates the organization of a special intelligence service for law enforcement officers in this age so that police throughout the country will have current information on important criminals and syndicated operations. I heartily agree with this young, brilliant prosecutor who has built a foundation for future action by state and federal governments against gangster operations.

'Summit' Conference May Be In Geneva

GENEVA (AP)—There seems to be a tacit understanding with the Soviets that the East-West summit conference—if it is arranged—will be held in Geneva.

Western diplomats think it will come soon after the windup of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's Scandinavian tour Aug. 30. The United States, Britain and France are reported taking it for granted that the conference will be confined to the Big Four powers.

East and West German delegates almost certainly will be along to serve as "advisers" in any talks on Berlin and the wider problems of a German peace settlement. But the Germans will withdraw when non-German issues come up.

Seaway Importance Stressed at Meeting

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Rear Adm. Edmund B. Taylor stressed the strategic importance of the St. Lawrence Seaway at a meeting here Thursday.

He said the new inland sea gives the armed forces direct access to the industrial potential of the middle west. Furthermore, the Navy does not have to protect this shipping, he told the meeting sponsored by the Toledo Chamber of Commerce and the Toledo-Lucas County Port Authority.

Rebounding Yankees Take Two From Indians 7-5 and 4-0

A's Turn Back Orioles 4-3

Chicago, Boston Split 7-5, 4-0

By The Associated Press
All you can say about the American League pennant race at the moment is IF.

IF the Chicago White Sox can do no worse than split the four-game series they open in New York tonight against the Yankees, they might be able to do something with their newly reacquired lead.

IF the Cleveland Indians can rebound quickly they might bounce right back into first place in a four-game series at Boston opening tonight.

IF the Yankees can sweep the White Sox, or at worse lose no more than one of the four, then it might be all over.

The White Sox slipped back into first place while splitting a double-header at Boston Thursday, losing 5-4 after pushing their winning streak to five games with a 4-3 decision in the opener. The Indians were jolted to second, a game behind after a month's stay on top, when they dropped a double-header to the Yankees, 7-5 in 10 innings and 4-0.

Kansas City defeated third-place Baltimore 4-3, and Washington's surging Senators swept a three-game series from Detroit's sliding Tigers 5-2.

In the National League, first-place San Francisco beat Philadelphia 1-0 on Johnny Antonelli's three-hitter after the Phils had won the first game of the two-night double-header 6-4. Third-place Milwaukee lost its third in a row to the Chicago Cubs, 4-2. Cincinnati defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 7-5.

The White Sox beat Boston on Sherm Lollar's tie-breaking double in the seventh inning against loser Tom Brewer (7-6). Dick Donovan won it. He allowed only four hits, but needed Gerry Staley's hitless two-inning save for a 6-5 record.

Ted Williams' pinch single in the sixth gave the Red Sox a 4-4 tie in the second game, and Vic Wertz who drove in an early run with one of two doubles, then beat reliever Ray Moore (2-6) with a seven-inning single. Mike Fornieles gained his first victory in relief.

Bobby Shantz (4-3) pitched a five-hitter, walking two, striking out seven, for his fourth straight victory, first complete game and

Halifax Team Signs Stallsmith

Phillies Take Note Of Former Goshen, Ohio U. Star

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Myron Stallsmith, former Goshen High School and Ohio University athlete, has been signed to a baseball contract by Halifax, Nova Scotia, the Philadelphia Phillies affiliate in the Canadian League.

Stallsmith inked the pact Thursday morning and left immediately by air to join the team in time for a game last night in Halifax. Manager Don Turk reported that Stallsmith would be installed as the club's regular second baseman. Halifax is currently in second place, two and a half games out of first.

An all-around athlete at Goshen High School from 1950-'54, Stallsmith has been attending Ohio University and needs only a few credit hours to obtain a degree.

It was while starring at second base for an always strong Ohio University Bobcat nine that Stallsmith was first spotted by a Philadelphia scout.

The slugging infielder at one time played American Legion ball for Salem and later performed for the Salem Merchants. This summer, he has been instrumental in keeping the home club at the top of the Youngstown city league.

Myron, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stallsmith of the Ellsworth Rd., has also been working this summer in Mansfield as a youth camp counselor.

KIWANIS SEE BROWNS

Filmed highlights of the Cleveland Browns' 1958 football season were shown at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday noon in the Memorial Building. The Kiwanis picnic is scheduled for 6 p.m. July 23 at Centennial Park. Paul Horning is general chairman.

first shutout since 1957 in the nightcap for the Yankees. Enos Slaughter and Hank Bauer homered.

The fourth-place Yanks gained a 5-5 tie on Yogi Berra's 11th homer in the ninth inning of the opener, then put it away on Mickey Mantle's two-run, two-out homer off losing reliever Gary Bell. Tom Sturdivant's four innings of hitless relief saved it for the A's and Bud Daley (9-6), who gave up the Oriole runs on homers by Walt Dropo and Gus Triandos. Jerry Walker (7-4) lost it.

The Senators beat the Tigers' Ray Narleski (4-10) with two runs in the second on Faye Throneberry's home run and a sacrifice fly by winning pitcher Bill Fischer (8-3).

Kresges Tally 24 Runs In One Inning Against Endres-Gross

A player with two home runs and a triple in the same inning, 24 runs in one half inning, and a team with five runs on no hits added up to a wild night of Hot Stove League baseball Thursday.

Mowery of Kresges was the strong man who accounted for a total of 11 bases in one inning. It was the same team and the same inning that saw 24 runs cross the plate. Victim of the massacre was the Class H Endres-Gross nine which went down to a 27-11 defeat. Dairy Isle pitchers held Select Dairy batters hitless but were so wild they gave up five runs on walks. Dairy Isle finally won the game, 17-5, mainly on the strength of Hilliard's two home runs which were good for seven RBIs.

In other action, Class E's third place Youngstown Kitchens polished off league-leading Bliss 17-3. Zammarelli had four hits including a home run for the winners.

Scott's took the Italian Club 9-3 in Class G as Doug Plastow hit three home runs. K of C routed Bricker's 21-9 in the other G contest. Phil Shasteen of Bricker's had the lone home run of the game.

Montreal Dumps Rochester 5-4

By The Associated Press

Though they've hardly drawn a whisper of comment the Toronto Maple Leafs have been barreling through the International League at a good clip.

After knocking off the Rochester Red Wings 5-4 Thursday night, the Leafs have compiled a 20-9 record since June 21. They are 46-49 now, compared to 26-40 at that time.

The Leafs are sixth, seven games behind league-leading Buffalo, which defeated Montreal 7-6 in 11 innings. The Miami Marlins stayed two games behind the Bisons in second place with a 1-0 victory over Richmond while Havana pulled into a tie with seventh place Columbus on 5-3 victory.

Home runs by Jesse Gonder, Yoyo Davalillo and Tony Gonzales in the last two innings gave the Sugar Kings their victory over Columbus' Lynn Lovenguth (9-11). Luis Arroyo squared his record at 4-4 in relief, allowing one hit in three innings.

Tennis Tournament At Lakeside Opens July 27

Entries for the Northern Ohio Tennis championships to be held July 27 - Aug. 1 at Lakeside are being accepted by the tournament committee there.

Events include singles and doubles for boys and girls, mixed singles and doubles for men and women, and singles for men 45 and older. Details on how to enter the tournament may be obtained by writing the Lakeside Association, sponsors of the event.

Betty Hicks Fires 71 In Alliance Open

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Take it from Betty Hicks, who has been at it since 1941, you don't get rich, or too much rest, on professional golf tours.

The gracious lady from Los Angeles, here for the $12,500 Alliance International tourney, has her twinkling eyes focused on the $2,200 top prize to be handed out Sunday for 72 holes of medal play.

After firing a par 71, one stroke off the pace set by 19-year-old Kathyanne Whitworth of Jal, N.M., in the opening round, Miss Hicks said only six or seven of the feminine fairway tourists would wind up the 25-event campaign with a profit.

"In 1957, I won $8,700 on the tour and came out just about even," she said.

"The girls usually travel by autos in pairs, but the tour covers some 30,000 miles and that runs into money and car depreciation." Deadlocked with Miss Hicks in second place is Fay Crocker of Montevideo, 20-time champion of Uruguay; always-threatening Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., and amateur Betty Kerby of Akron, winner of the Ohio State title the last two years.

Pitching — Johnny Antonelli, Giants, saved San Francisco's one game lead with a three-hit, 1-0 victory over the Phillies, who had won the opener of the two-night doubleheader 6-4.

Huffer Resigns Umpire Post

Action Precipitated By Class F Dispute

Charles Huffer, Little League and Hot Stove umpire in Salem for nine years, quit his post yesterday following Wednesday night's hassle at Memorial Park involving players, managers and spectators.

Don Abrams, umpire-in-chief of the Hot Stove League, said Huffer asked to be relieved of his umpiring duties "because of the way some coaches, kids and spectators have been conducting themselves."

Huffer has been umpiring this year in Class F, which includes players in the 11 to 13 age group.

On Wednesday Jim Garrett, manager of Salem Plumbers (formerly Youngstown Kitchens) pulled his team off the field following a dispute which resulted in the ejection of pitcher Dave Capel. Earlier in the game Huffer had banished Mike Owens, coach for opposing Fishers. The umpire called a halt to the game in the fifth inning with Fishers leading 4-2.

Spectators added to the confusion by going on to the field to take part in the disputes, Abrams reported.

He said conditions have been steadily growing worse in Class F with some managers setting poor examples for players by continually arguing with umpires.

O-C Dumps Farmers Bank In Basketball

In Summer League basketball yesterday Farmers National Bank went into overtime before turning back a determined O-C All Stars team which was paced by Dan Thomas' 24 points in the first half. "Big" Jake Alexander's defensive work in holding Thomas to six points in the second half of the game resulted in the Farmers win, 74-70.

Dell's Stars, led by four players hitting the double figures overcame a first half deficit and roared to a 60-38 triumph over Muck's Stars in the other game played at Centennial Park.

Dell's trailed 22-16 at the midpoint. Hitting the double figures for Dell's were Bill Pauline, Clyde Marks, Ken Dell and Jim Fife.

Lincoln Machine, Fireside Go 10

Charley's Edges Bliss 9-4; Salona Smashes B and W 10-2

Charley's Tavern, Lincoln Machine and Salona Supply pulled off victories in Class A play last night at Kelley Park.

Charley's scored an easy 9-4 win over Bliss, Lincoln had to go an extra inning to edge Fireside Inn 4-3 while Salona smashed out a 10-2 win over B & W Research.

Bill Pauline singled and Dick Jeffries promptly homered to give Charley's a two-run lead in the first inning which Bliss was never able to overcome. Pitcher Jerry Fowler scattered four hits for the winners, two of them singles by Joe Winkler.

Lincoln's win was a thrilling come-from-behind affair. Fireside scored a run in each of the first two innings. Lincoln countered in the fourth and fifth to tie it up.

The game remained at 2-2 until the top of the eighth when Hayes Covert of Fireside walked and eventually scored on an error.

Lincoln again bounced back. Bill Edgerton and Judge Guiler reached on fielders and both rode home on consecutive singles by Ron Shaffer, Frank Lanney and reliable Charlie Marks.

John Walborn and Jack Nigro hit solo homers for B&W but those were the only runs they were able to garner off Salona pitcher Red Dotson.

Bill Rummell homered over the left field fence with one on in the third for Salona to put the game out of reach for the Researchers.

$359,200 School Board Budget Adopted

Columbiana Dems Pick Harrold As Candidate

COLUMBIANA — Lee Harrold of 364 N. Main St., manager of the Columbiana Milling & Supply Co., has been picked by the local Democratic party to replace his late father as a candidate for village council in the fall election.

Harrold, who will be making his first political bid, is married and has two married daughters. He is a member of Grace United Church of Christ and the Ruritans. His father, O. F. Harrold, died last month.

The substitution was the second made by the Democrats since announcing their slate in late January. Gay Zellers, councilman and candidate for re-election, resigned from Council and withdrew from the election contest in March after he was appointed county superintendent of state highways. His place on the ballot was filled by Ray Brubaker.

COLUMBIANA EXEMPTED village board of education has approved an estimated $359,200 budget to operate the local schools during the 1960 calendar year. It will be forwarded to the County Budget Commission following a public hearing Monday night.

Major estimated expenditures for 1960 include: education, $240,000 (teacher salaries); operation of school plant, $33,000; contribution to teachers' retirement fund, $24,500; administration, $17,000; transportation, $14,600; educational supplies and text books, $13,000; maintenance of school plant, $5,500; contributions to school employees' retirement fund, $3,500.

The budget, prepared by Supt. D. W. Bailey, anticipates income for 1960 of $180,000 from the general property tax, $144,900 from the State School Foundation, and $6,000 from other sources.

The Effect of Foreign Imports

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE
(NEA Staff Writer)

To chill you on a hot summer's day, herewith some icy facts:

For the past five months, for the first time in some 70 years, steel imports have exceeded steel exports.

Why? Because the price of foreign steel is lower than that of domestic steel. Yet, we have not raised steel prices since mid-1958 and the hope is that we don't have to.

Retail sales of U.S. radios—not counting car radios—slipped by 850,000 units last year. During the same period, imports of Japanese radios jumped by 1,865,000 units.

Why? A Japanese eight-transistor set retails for $39 in the U.S. compared with $44 for an American eight-transistor set that is larger. On the Japanese radio, the U.S. retailer makes a $5 profit. On the comparable U.S. radio his profit is $2 less. In my town, a big radio retailer claims he is selling 20 Japanese sets to one U.S. set.

AS A NATION, we pride ourselves on being good shoppers. This is true whether our job is that of purchasing agent for a large company or purchasing agent for the family. Up to recently we have also prided ourselves upon the ownership of "something foreign made." Most of us believe in free trade.

Yet it is now beginning to look as though "something foreign made" is becoming more and more dominant. From automobiles to raincoats, among raw materials and finished goods, the imported item is giving the domestic increasing competition.

Why? Because the price of the imported item is lower and overseas much skill and know-how has been developed in recent years permitting foreign-made goods to compete with our own.

How can the price of a foreign product landed in the U.S. be so much lower than ours? The answer is basic. The largest cost factor in most manufactured goods as well as in the distribution of raw materials is labor.

The highest paid steel worker in Europe today earns on the average $1.11 per hour. Our average hourly steel worker's pay is $3.67.

The typical Japanese transistor radio maker is a teen-aged girl who earns about 25 cents an hour plus dormitory space. Her comparable pay in the U.S. would be $2.50 plus fringe benefits.

EUROPE'S and Asia's gains do not spell a total loss to us economically. There has been a recent trend for domestic companies to establish overseas plants to make goods competitively in foreign countries for export both to other nations as well as to the U.S.

Without resorting to such action, many companies would face losses in world markets.

However, because of moving some productive facilities overseas these companies do not need as many workers at home. An acceleration of this trend without any compensation, say by simultaneously producing other items at home, is a direct threat to our employment picture. It could have a serious effect.

Wage inflation causing price inflation is forcing the centers of production out of the U.S. This calls for serious thought among those seeking higher pay, among those whose responsibility it is to price goods. It should also be uppermost in the minds of those whose jobs could be threatened.

The time for action to guard against pricing ourselves out of world markets is now, not after it is too late.

Listing of New Books at Salem Public Library

Books and reading have always been associated with the finer things in life. L. C. Powell, a university librarian, writes about the collecting and reading of books in "A Passion for Books." Powell includes adventures he has had in a lifetime spent in bookstores and libraries, and gives an insight into the joys of his profession.

Another of the finer things in life is singing. "Let's All Sing" is an interesting collection of songs suitable for solo or group singing. J. F. Leisy's collection contains over 150 songs arranged by classification, including American and foreign folk songs, sea ditties, hymns and spirituals. Each song is introduced by a section which gives the background and history of the music and words.

"Earthquake" by Milton Berle and John Roebert. The famous TV funny man has co-authored a serious novel about an unusual group of Americans who, for one reason or another, are exiles in Mexico. There is a politician, a left wing writer, a Russian revolutionary, and an executive whose wife is divorcing him. An earthquake brings events to a dramatic climax.

"Live From the Devil" by Wyatt Blassingame. A "western adventure" with a Florida setting. Matt Prescott has to fight everything and everybody in order to build up a successful cattle ranch.

"Melora" by M. G. Eberhart. One of the better mystery writers tells the story of a wealthy New York lawyer and his socialite girl friend who become involved in a plot of murder and intrigues.

"Saturday Evening Post Stories 1958" selected by the editors of the Saturday Evening Post. The annual collection of the best short stories and novelettes that appeared in the magazine during the past year. Many well known writers are included this year.

"So Dead the Rose" by M. E. Chaber. When someone stole the list of behind the Iron Curtain contacts from the C.I.A. office in Paris, Mils Marsh was ordered to locate the list, even if the search took him to Moscow.

"Four Stories" by Sigrid Undset. Four stories of modern Norway by the famous Scandinavian writer. Each story is concerned with a dramatic personal crisis in the life of the title character.

"Fourth Galaxy Reader" by the editors of Galaxy Science Fiction. Fifteen short stories by the top names in the field of science fiction writing: Fritz Leiber, Frederick Pohl, Avram Davidson, and others equally well known as well as some newcomers.

"Concentration" by Mouni Sadhu. Exercises designed to enable anyone to learn the concentration that brings mastery of thought and the utmost use of ability.

"National Forests" by A. H. Carhart. Descriptions of our more than 180 million acres of National Forests, from New England to the West Coast. Tourist information is given for each Forest as well as material on its characteristics and history.

"Great Companions" by Max Eastman. Twelve outstanding people of our time are discussed with an evaluation of their ideas and character. Included are Edna Millay, Pablo Casals, Ernest Hemingway, Charlie Chaplin and other notables.

"Silent Investigators" by J. N. Makris. The story of the vital role the U.S. Postal Inspection Service has played, from the Colonial period to the present, in solving some of the most difficult cases in history. Cases of forgery, mail fraud, extortion, and mail robbery have been solved by their efforts.

"Hellenism" by A. J. Toynbee. The well-known historian traces the rise and fall of the Graeco-Roman civilization. He discusses the development of the city-state, examines its spread from the Mediterranean area to Alexander's Empire in the East, and concludes with an analysis of its decline under the Roman Empire.

"Endurance" by Alfred Lansing. The exciting story of the amazing escape of Ernest Shackleton and his men from a doomed ship sinking in the icy waters of Antarctica. Their fantastic adventure is recreated from old diaries and from interview with living survivors.

"Hearing" by Dr. Norman Canfield. A specialist in the field discusses hearing impairment in simple terms, not only for the millions of deaf or partly deaf, but for their families and friends as well.

"Primer for Profit in the Stock Market" by Harry Kahn, Jr. A book for the beginner explaining the stock market, the language of the market, the best ways for the beginner to invest and how he should go about it.

"Tomorrow - The Moon" by A. and R. Marcus. A history of rockets going back as far as ancient Greece and China. Simple language is used to present the complex workings of missiles, satellites, jets and rockets.

"How to Remove the Cotton from a Bottle of Aspirin" by Ruby Goldberg. Crazy machinery explained with the humorist's step-by-step drawings. Only Rube Goldberg could design such machinery and provide such humor.
